TRAVEL NEWS

From taking it easy at a beautiful beach retreat in Mexico to action-packed adventure in Vermont, here's what's on this month's honeymoon radar

Prime location

Great news for fans of Nobu Hotel's luxe offerings; the global brand has just hit the white shores of west Mexico with an enticing beach retreat in Los Cabos. Blending chic interiors with Japanese minimalism, this tranquil space provides an idyllic sanctuary away from the buzz of Cabo, where guests can hit up the spa, bask by one of four pools, or play a round on the nearby Diamante golf course. And in true Nobu style, the food is exquisite. loscabos.nobuhotels.com

PARADISE FOUND

When it comes to your honeymoon, perhaps one island just isn't enough! Travel with ease between The Residence Maldives at Dhigurah and its existing sister property at Faihumaafushi, connected by the longest private bridge in the Maldives. Offering 173 beach, water and lagoon villas – not to mention a Clarins spa set in tropical gardens – the all-inclusive atoll at Dhigurah is a haven of white-sand beaches and bespoke romantic experiences. ## American dream

Pretty views meet thrilling excursions at Vermont's Twin Farms. Get stuck into cycling, hiking, tennis or fly-fishing before returning to your cottage for a soak in a private granite hot tub. There are no food menus here, either; guests can order anything their heart desires from Chef Nathan Rich. twinfarms.com
